Announcing Vlad Quigley's Online Gothic Shop

The online Gothic Shop: <http://www.cafeshops.com/vladquigley>

Vlad Quigley's official website: <http://www.vladquigley.com>

Acknowledged as the founder of gothic modelling & described as "Roy Lichtenstein meets Guido Crepax", British Gothic Punk artist Vlad has worked with many of the world's most famous women as his muses - including Hollywood actresses, supermodels & Playboy models. Vlad's career began as a horror comic artist, he has been published & exhibited throughout the world and he is listed in Who's Who In Art.

Now stricken with Myalgic Encephalomyelitis, Vlad has forsaken his work with models to concentrate on his first love: horror comics. Currently Vlad is working with legendary science fiction novelist Evelyne Benu on a graphic novel adaptation of the classic first ever vampire novel, Victorian Penny Dreadful "Varney the Vampyre or the Feast of Blood" ...to be serialised in Carnopolis Magazine.

The online Gothic Shop sells a wide selection of quality merchandise including: t-shirts, posters, framed prints, bags, mugs, thongs, lunchboxes, clocks, mousepads, postcard sets, cuddly toys, spiral bound journals, greetings card sets, and calendars... each featuring the post modern art of the London-based artist and available at reasonable prices!

Dominating the store is a vast selection from the "Ghoulish Delights" range of cheeky fun retro kitsch art aimed for the gothic and punk audience! As a Pop Art parody of Andy Warhol's kitsch celebrity culture, the featured official model for these pictures is Hollywood's most successful porn star, Australian-born Jodie Moore!

Please check out the section titled "The Gothic Punk Poodle Of Doom!" This is a genuine early 1980s gothic punk collectors piece! If you weren't given a Poodle Card at the time, you weren't really there! This is the notoriously awful Poodle Christmas cards that was Vlad Quigley's daft mission to give out at random to bemused punks & goths throughout Britain during the 1980s - including such luminary Goth landmarks & venues as: the Batcave, the Town & Country Club, Slimelight, Alice In Wonderland, Camden Market, Planet X, Portobello Market, Dingwalls, Sister Rays, The Factory, Liverpool Cavern Club, Camden Electric Ballroom, Kensington Market, Planet Alice, Subterfuge, JBs, Seldon Arms, Snakepit, etc.

The online shop also features Vlad Quigley's "Gothic Native American art". A campaigner for Native American civil rights & culture, Vlad has been honoured with the Lenape Nation's sacred pipe ceremony and he is adopted Ojibwa (Chippewa) and Lenape (Delaware). These pictures originally illustrated adaptations of traditional Ojibwa love poems, dedicated to Vlad's Cherokee friend Cindy Nativedreams and bringing together the very finest in both Gothic and Native American culture by featuring official art of celebrity Gothic models, Native American models & models of Native American descent: Masuimi Max, Jessica Jaymes, Mistress Persephone, RedVamp, Taj Passion, Vera VanGuard, Brandy D'Vinn, Inanna Maiya and Renee Downey.
